A RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, In the Providence of our Heavenly Father, the Rev. Leander M. Zimmerman, D. D., will observe the Seventy-fifth Anniversary of his birth on August 29, 1935, and

WHEREAS, thirty-eight of these years were spent as the faithful Pastor of Christ English Lutheran Church, Baltimore, Maryland, and ten additional years as her beloved Pastor Emeritus, and

WHEREAS, during this pastorate he not only organized and established Christ Church, but by his consecrated leadership developed it into one of the largest and most influential congregations in the Lutheran Church in America, and

WHEREAS, by his Godly life and magnetic personality, his Gospel preaching, his untiring pastoral labors, his beautiful and helpful literary contributions he has brought countless blessings to us and thousands of others in our community and elsewhere:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: that the members and friends of Christ Church, assembled for worship on this Lord's Day, August 25, 1935, do hereby express anew our fervent gratitude to Almighty God for the beneficent life of this, His true servant: that we extend our sincerest congratulations to Dr. Zimmerman on his Seventy-fifth birthday: that we offer our earnest prayers for the preservation of his health and strength and usefulness for many years: and that we notify him that as a permanent token of our appreciation and love on this notable Anniversary, we have made a cheerful and voluntary contribution of $800.00 to be used for the special beautification of the lobby of the Dr. Zimmerman Parish House where his portrait will be placed as an enduring reminder to present and future generations of his noble and sacrificial life.

Dear Friends:

On the 29th day of August, our beloved Dr. Zimmerman will be 75 years of age. More than one-half of this long and useful life has been spent in Christ Church, and we thank God for what he has meant to us and our Church.

It is unthinkable that we should allow this notable Anniversary to pass without some proper recognition; but the difficult question is, what can we do for Dr. Zimmerman. His modesty and unselfishness cause him to decline anything of a purely personal nature.

A Committee from the Ladies' Society has been appointed to consider this question, and, after much deliberation and consultation, it has been decided to do something which will honor Dr. Zimmerman and yet not be an exclusively personal gift. Our suggestion, which has been approved by the Church Staff and all those with whom we have conferred, is that, in honor of his birthday, we beautify the lobby of our new Parish House in which the portrait of Dr. Zimmerman will hang. Instead of the plain cement floor and ceiling, which our plans call for in order to keep the cost of our building to the minimum, we could have slate or some other appropriate material for the floor, panelled ceiling, painted walls and wrought-iron hand rails on the stair cases which lead from the lobby to the church and fellowship hall. This would provide a very attractive setting for Dr. Zimmerman's portrait and a more pleasing reception for all who enter the building. We believe that this would be an appropriate and acceptable gift.

In order that this gift shall have as much significance as possible, it is desirable that a large majority of our members shall have a part in it. The small contributions of the many will be more appreciated than the large gifts of the few. If each one of our members will give a very nominal sum, we beleive that we can reach the goal of six or seven hundred dollars which is the estimated cost of these improvements. Please remember that this is a purely voluntary undertaking, and, if for any reason you cannot share in it, it will be perfectly all right. If you can cheerfully cooperate, please bring or send your gift in the enclosed envelope on or before August 25th.

Think how happy it will make Dr. Zimmerman as well as all of us, when he walks into this attractive lobby and remembers that it has been beautified as a token of our love and esteem and in honor of his 75th birthday.

Sincerely yours,

The Committee

Gentlemen:

Your records will show that the Rev. Dr. Leander M. Zimmerman has a checking account in your Bank which is registered as follows:

> "Rev. Leander M. Zimmerman in trust for himself and Trustees of Christ English Lutheran Church Joint Owners, subject to order of either, the balance at death of either to belong to the survivor."

Within the past ten days Dr. Zimmerman has suffered a broken hip and is confined to the Doctors' Hospital in Washington, D. C. His physical condition in this his 90th year makes it very difficult for him to issue checks for the payment of his expenses. For this reason, the Trustees of Christ English Lutheran Church feel that it would be wise for them to give you the signatures of the designated Trustees authorized to sign checks on behalf of Trustees of Christ English Lutheran Church for the withdrawal of funds from the above named account. Accordingly, at a regular meeting of the Trustees held August 4, 1950, the following action was taken, a quorum of the Trustees being present:

> "It was moved, seconded and carried 'That any two of the following persons are hereby authorized to sign checks to make withdrawalffrom the joint account of Dr. Leander M. Zimmerman and Trustees of Christ English Lutheran Church, carried with First National Bank of Baltimore, to meet his medical or other expenses: John L. Deaton, President; Milton C. Smith, Secretary; John R. Heinzerling, Treasurer.' "

I am enclosing cards containing the signatures of these Officers of Christ Church.

Respectfully yours,

CHRIST ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH

Gentlemen:

With regard to the checking account registered in the books of the Bank as follows:

"Leander M. Zimmerman in trust for himself and Trustees of Christ English Lutheran Church joint owners, subject to order of either, the balance at death of either to belong to the survivor."

I am writing to request and authorize you to credit to the above mentioned joint account any and all checks drawn to my order with or without my endorsement that may be presented to the Bank for deposit in my name.

Thanking you for your attention.

Gentlemen:

Dr. Leander M. Zimmerman has an annuity contract with your Company, No. 1467.

On July 27, 1950, Dr. Zimmerman had a fall resulting in a broken hip and is now a patient in the Doctors' Hospital, 18th and I Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C. His physical condition is favorable according to the report of his doctors, but not too much can be expected of one approaching ninety years of age. Having no relatives, Dr. Zimmerman looks to me and the Officers of this Church, with which he has been associated as Pastor and Pastor Emeritus for sixty-three years, to give him any needed assistance. So far he has been able to sign his checks and to handle all financial matters, but we can foresee the approach of the time when this may not be possible.

The purpose of this letter is to inquire what are the requirements of your Company for anyone who is duly constituted as his agent to sign his checks and deposit them to his account, when and if this should become necessary. His medical expenses are considerable and all his resources will be needed to meet them. Any delay in making his annuities available for his use will work a hardship upon him.

Your instruction in this matter will be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

JLD/EZ

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

LEANDER M. ZIMMERMAN.

In the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, Amen.

I, Leander M. Zimmerman, first of all, acknowledge my deep gratitude to Almighty God, for His wonderful love to me during all these years, having blessed me in my humble efforts to serve Him. He has ever been my Dear Heavenly Father, and I love Him dearly, for sparing my life so many years, that with voice and pen, I might be able to serve Him in serving others.

Although I firmly believe that, made in the likeness of God, if we are devoutly His consecrated followers, we shall never die, but will live on forever with our Blessed Saviour who came to redeem us from sin. Nevertheless, I am also conscious of the fact that, these bodies of ours some day will die. Therefore, believing in the wisdom of "setting the house in order"

I, Leander M. Zimmerman, of Baltimore, Maryland, being of sound and disposing mind, memory and understanding, being desirous to settle my worldly affairs, small as they are, that I, may be the better prepared to leave this world, when it shall please my Heavenly Father to call me into the Bright Beyond, I do therefore make and publish this my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking and annulling all wills by me heretofore made, in manner and form following, that is to say:

First, and principally, I commit my soul into the hands of my Father God, and my body to the earth to be decently buried in my lot in Loudon Park, besides that of my brother's. The funeral expenses are already provided for, after Wm. Cook shall have completed the burial of my body.

In case there should be any other expenses not provided for, my executor, the Rev. John L. Deaton, Pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, whom I hereby appoint, will see to their payment.

Second, I give, devise and bequeath to Christ Lutheran Church, my "bride", whatever little money may be left at my death. My "bride", yes commonly so known by many, having founded and served the same church for thirty-eight years as its sole pastor, then elected its pastor-emeritus, the Christ Lutheran Church, was really my "bride". To the same church, Christ English Lutheran, I give my two silk Altar Robes and my gold watch, which the congregation gave me many years ago. These articles for use by the pastor, or pastors of the Church I served.

~~Furthermore~~ Thirdly, I give, devise and bequeath to the Pastor, Rev. John L. Deaton, my small personal effects, comprising chiefly of clothes, small desk with typewriter, cedar chest and contents together with my trunk and contents, believing he, the pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, can best use or distribute these things. Or, if at my death another be pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, then to him, shall these small personal effects be given.

To a very dear friend, who for many years in many ways has kindly befriended me, Walter M. Kriel, I give, devise and bequeath as a token of my gratitude, my Scarab scarf pin, declared to be 3,000 years old, and with this, my cuff buttons, to the same Walter M. Kriel.

And lastly, I hereby nominate, constitute and appoint said John L. Deaton, ~~or, whoever at the time of my death may be pastor of Christ English Lutheran Church,~~ to be my executor of this, my last Will and Testament, and I desire that he be not required to give bond for the faithful performance of the duties of that office.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have set my hand and seal to this my last Will and Testament, at Baltimore, Maryland, this day of in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven.

THE NAME AND FAMILY

ZIMMERMAN(N)

THE NAME AND FAMILY OF ZIMMERMAN(N)

The name of ZIMMERMAN or ZIMMERMANN is of German origin and was derived from the word zimbermann, meaning "carpenter". It was first taken as a surname because of the trade of its first bearers. It is found in ancient German and early American records in the various spellings of Zimmermanns, Zimmermans, Zimbermann, Zimberman, Cimberman, Timmermann, Timmerman, Zimbermanns, Simmermann, Simmerman, Zimmermann, Zimmerman, and others, of which the last two forms mentioned are those most generally in use in America today.

Families bearing this name, chiefly in the forms of Zimmermann and Zimmerman, were to be found at early dates at Fribourg, in Switzerland; in Livonia and Esthonia, Russia; in Silesia, Prussia; at Brandenburg, Prussia; in Hesse, Germany; at Vienna, in Austria; at Baden, in Germany; at Bale, in Switzerland; at Alsace, in Germany; and also in Holland and Sweden. These families were, for the most part of the landed classes of Europe.

As early as 1550 one Zimmermann was listed as a nobleman "du St. Empire". One branch of this family went into Sweden about 1672, while another branch was to be found in Livonia, Russia, in 1730 and is recorded as being of the nobility. In 1598 a Zimmermann family was living in Silesia; and in 1629 a Zimmermann, listed as a nobleman "du St. Empire", was living in Bavaria. The Brandenburg line, "Chevaliers en Bohème", was distinguished by a grant of arms in the year 1710; and in 1733 a family of the name was listed among the nobility of Austria.

Although it is not definitely known from which of the branches of the family in Europe the first emigrants of the name to America were descended, it is generally believed that all of the Zimmermanns and Zimmermans were of similar, if not of common, origin and ancestry at a remote period.

The first of the name to emigrate to America was Christopher Zimmerman, an Evangelical Lutheran, whose intended destination was Pennsylvania. His ship was, however, driven southward by a storm, and Christopher, therefore, arrived in Virginia in 1717 and made his home in that colony. He brought with him his wife, Elizabeth, and their children, Andrew and John, and settled in Spottsylvania County. He had further issue in this country of Barbara, Frederick, Christopher, Elizabeth, and Katharine.

Of Andrew Zimmerman, son of the emigrant Christopher, very little is known, although he is said to have been one of the trustees of Hebron Church, Va. It is considered probable that he left no issue, although he had a wife, named Barbara.

John, son of the immigrant Christopher, was the father by his wife, Ursula or Ursuly Blankenbaker, of John, Margaret, Christopher, Mary, Rosanna, Dorothy, and Elizabeth.

John, elder son of the first John Zimmerman, of Virginia, was the father by his wife, Susanna, of Joshua, Anna Magdalen, Rebecca, Simeon, John, George, Nancy, and Hannah. The records of this line are not, however, complete.

Christopher, the younger son of the first John Zimmerman, of Virginia, married Maria Tanner about 1745 and settled in Culpeper County, Va., where he was the father by her of Susannah, Joshua, Elizabeth, Frederick, Maria, Nancy, Margaret, Leah, and Milly.

Of the last-mentioned brothers, Joshua removed to Boone County, Ky., and was first married in 1798 to Susan Tanner and later to the Widow Lucy Snyder, but left no issue; and Frederick resided first in Madison County, Va., and later in Boone County, Ky., and left issue by his wife, Rosanna Crigler, of Aaron, Joshua, Jacob, Fannie, Catherine, Maria, Nancy, Susan, and Julia.

Frederick, son of the immigrant Christopher, was the father by his wife, Sarah, of, among others, a son named Reuben, who married the Widow Mary (nee Catlett) Yates about 1790 and was the father by her of William Gibson, George Washington, Sarah Taliaferro, James Madison, Mary, and Elizabeth.

Of the last-mentioned brothers, William Gibson married Matilda Somersall and was the father by her of Reuben, John William, Mary, Simon Bolivar, Lawrence Taliaferro, Alice Catlett, and Zerelda; George Washington married Margaret Brisco Smith, of Maryland, but the names of his children are not in evidence; and James Madison married Zulina Bainbridge and removed to Lincoln County, Mo., where he left issue, although the name of his progeny have not been found.

Christopher, son of the emigrant Christopher, is said to have died in 1781 without issue or, at least, with no heirs living at that time.

About the middle of the eighteenth century Herman Zimmerman or Zimmermann, who is believed to have been the son of one Henry Zimmerman(n), of Dellenburg, Holland, and a nephew of John Zimmerman(n), a wealthy bachelor, of the same place, came to America and settled in Montgomery County, Pa. He married Susanna Borneman and was the father by her of Herman, Henry, Christian, Daniel, Jacob, Abraham, Catharine, Barbara, and Susanna.

Herman, eldest son of the emigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), married Elizabeth Young in 1791 and had issue by her of John, Susanna, Jacob, and David. In 1801 he appears to have left his wife and finally removed to Canada.

Henry, second son of the immigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), married Elizabeth Hiestand and was the father by her of Abraham, Elizabeth, and Barbara. He was a blacksmith and is said to have been prominent in his trade.

Daniel, son of the immigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), resided in Huntingdon County, Pa., and was the father of Frederick, Daniel, Henry, and, possibly, Abraham.

Jacob, son of the immigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), was the father of five children, John, Jacob, David, Mary, and Sarah.

The other sons of the immigrant Herman Zimmerman(n), Christian and Abraham, may also have left issue, but no definite records have yet been found concerning their immediate families or descendants.

One John Zimmerman or Zimmermann, whose ancestry is not known, resided in the city of New York in the latter eighteenth century, before the year 1779, and had issue there by his wife, formerly a Miss Bradley, of, among other children, a son named John, who married Huldah Dimon and settled at Fairfield, Conn., where he left issue by her of Charles, Mary Ann, John Dimon or Dimond, and Bradley.

In 1781 one Jacob Zimmerman or Zimmermann is said to have deserted the British Service and the Hessian Forces and to have taken the oath of allegiance to the American Colonies in Pennsylvania. He appears to have made his home in Virginia at a later date, but no record has yet been found of his descendants.

Other members of the family, whose connection, if any, with the above-mentioned lines cannot be determined, were Christopher or Stophel, Areheart, and Charles Simmerman or Zimmerman, who were living in Wythe County, Va., before the year 1790.

The descendants of these and of later immigrants of the name to America have spread to practically every State of the Union and have aided greatly in the advancement of the nation. Mental and artistic ability, business acumen, thrift, and piety are traits of character common to many of the name. Zimmerman(n)s have attained particular distinction in the fields of poetry, history, painting, banking, commerce and jurisprudence.

Among those of the name who fought in the War of the Revolution were Ensign Cornelius, Lieutenant John, and Lieutenant Henry, of New York; John, Christopher, Frederick, Reuben, and William, of Virginia; and numerous others from the various other New England and southern colonies.

Christopher, Andrew, Frederick, William, Joshua, George, Reuben, Henry, Herman, Jacob, Abraham, Daniel, David, and John are some of the Christian names most favored by the family for its male progeny.

A few of the many members of the family who have distinguished themselves in America in more recent times are:

Thomas C. Zimmerman (b. 1838), of Pennsylvania, American journalist, publisher, and author.

John Zimmerman (b. 1843), of Switzerland and Indiana, American soldier and merchant.

Eugene Zimmerman (b. 1845), of Mississippi and Ohio, American railroad president and capitalist.

Jeremiah Zimmerman (b. 1848), of Maryland, American clergyman, author, educator, and numismatist.

Joseph Zimmerman (b. 1851), of Germany and Ohio, American legislator, jurist, and editor.

Eugene ("Zim") Zimmerman (b. 1862), of Switzerland and America, caricaturist and illustrator.

Leander M. Zimmerman (b. 1866), of Maryland, American clergyman and author.

One of the coats of arms of the ancient German family of Zimmermann or Zimmerman is that described as follows (Rietstap, Armorial Général, Vol. 2, 1887):

Arms.--"Argent, a fess gules, surmounted by an anchor without rope or."

Crest.--"Three ostrich plumes, one of red between two of silver."

WHY YOU HAVE A FAMILY NAME

AND WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU

Primitive personal names doubtless originated soon after the invention of spoken language, although the date of their first use is lost in the darkness of ages preceding recorded history. For thousands of years thereafter, first or given names were the only designations that men and women bore; and in the dawn of historic times, when the world was less crowded than it is today and every man knew his neighbor, only one title of address was necessary. Only gradually, with the passing centuries and the increasing complexity of civilized society, did a need arise for more specific designations. While the roots of our system of family names may be traced back to early civilized times, actually the hereditary surname as we know it today is a comparatively recent development in human history, dating from a time scarcely earlier than nine hundred years ago.

A surname is a name added to a baptismal or Christian name for the purposes of making it more specific and of indicating family relationship or descent. Classified according to origin, most surnames fall into four general categories: (1) those formed from the given name of the sire; (2) those arising from bodily or personal characteristics; (3) those derived from locality or place of residence; and (4) those derived from occupation. It is easier to understand the story of the development of our institution of surnames if these classifications are borne in mind.

As early as biblical times, certain distinguishing appellations were occasionally employed in addition to the given name, as, for instance, Joshua the son of Nun, Simon the son of Jonas, Judas of Galilee, and Simon the Zealot. In ancient Greece, daughters were scrupulously named after their fathers, as Chryseis, the daughter of Chryses; and sons' names were usually an enlarged form of the father's, as Hieronymus, son of Hiero. The Romans, with the rise of their civilization, felt the need for some hereditary title; and to meet this need they invented a complex system whereby every patrician traced his descent by taking several names. None of these, however, exactly corresponded to surnames as we know them, for the "clan name", though hereditary, was given also to slaves and other dependents. Excellent as this system was, it proved to be but a temporary innovation, for the overthrow of the Western Empire by barbarian invaders brought about its end and a reversion to the primitive custom of a single name.

The ancient Scandinavians and for the most part the Germans had only individual names, and there were no family names, strictly speaking, among the Celts. But as family and tribal groups grew in size, individual names proved inadequate and the need for supplementary designations began to be felt. Among the first employed were such terms as "the Strong", "the Hardy", "the Stern", "the Dreadful-in-battle"; and the nations of northern Europe soon adopted the practice of adding the father's name to the son's, as Oscar son of Ossian, Oscar son of Carnuch, and Dermid son of Duthno.

True surnames, in the sense of hereditary designations, date in England from about the year 1000. Largely, they were introduced from Normandy, although there are interesting records of Saxon surnames prior to the Norman Conquest. Perhaps the oldest known surname in England is that borne by Hwita Hatte, a keeper of bees, whose daughter was Tate Hatte. During the reign of Edward the Confessor (1042-1066), there were Saxon tenants in Suffolk bearing such names as Suert Magno, Stigand Soror, Siuward Rufus, and Leuric Hobbesune (Hobson); and the Domesday record of 1085-1086, which exhibits some curious combinations of Saxon forenames with Norman family names, shows surnames in still more general use.

By the end of the twelfth century, hereditary names had become common in England. But even by 1465 they were not universal. During the reign of Edward V a law was passed to compel certain Irish outlaws to adopt surnames: "They shall take unto them a Surname, either of some Town, or some Colour, as Blacke or Brown, or some Art or Science, as Smyth or Carpenter, or some Office, as Cooke or Butler." And as late as the beginning of the nineteenth century, a somewhat similar decree compelled Jews in Germany and Austria to add a German surname to the single names which they had previously used.

As stated above, family names may be divided into four general classes according to their origin. One of the largest of these classes is that comprising surnames derived from the given name of the father of those who first bore the surname. Such names were formed by means of an added prefix or suffix denoting either "son of" or a diminutive. English names terminating in son, ing, and kin (from the Norse sonr, ingr, kyn) are of this type, as are also the hosts of names prefixed with the Gaelic Mac, the Norman Fitz, the Welsh ap, and the Irish O' (literally "a descendant of"). Thus John's sons became Johnsons; William's sons, Williamsons or Wilsons; Richard's sons, Richardsons or Richardses (the final "s" of "Richards" being a contraction of "son"); Neill's sons, MacNeills; Herbert's sons, FitzHerberts; Thomas's sons, ap Thomases (ap has been dropped from many names of which it was formerly a part); and Reilly's sons, O'Reillys. Names of this type are common not only in the British Isles, but also in Germany, the Netherlands, the Scandinavian countries, and throughout many other parts of the world.

Another class of surnames, those arising from some bodily or personal characteristic of their first bearer, apparently grew out of what were in the first instance nicknames. Thus Peter the strong became Peter Strong, Roger of small stature became Roger Little or Roger Small, and black-haired William or blond Alfred became William Black or Alfred White. From among the many names of this type, only a few need be mentioned: Long, Hardy, Wise, Gladman, Lover, Youngman, and Legrand. Such names as Fox and Wolfe perhaps also belong in this group, although some writers suggest that they may be of an ancient totemistic origin instead.

A third class of family names, and perhaps the largest of all, is that comprising local surnames--names derived from and originally designating the place of residence or habitat of the bearer. Such names were popular in France at an early date and were introduced into England by the Normans, many of whom were known by the titles of their estates on the Continent and later by the titles of their English possessions. The surnames adopted by the nobility were mainly of this type, being used with the particles de, de la, or del (meaning "of" or "of the"). The Saxon equivalent was the word atte ("at the"), employed in such names as John atte Brook, Edmund atte Lane, Godwin atte Brigg, and William atte Bourne. A vestige of this usage survives in the names Atwell, Atwood, and Atwater; in other cases the Norman de was substituted; and in still others, such as Wood, Briggs, and Lane, the particle was dropped. The surnames of some of the Pilgrim fathers illustrate place designations: for instance, Winthrop means "from the friendly village"; Endicott, "an end cottage"; Bradford, "at the broad ford"; and Standish, "a stony park". The suffixes "ford", "ham", "ley", and "ton", denoting locality, are of frequent occurrence in such names as Ashford, Bingham, Burley or Burleigh, and Norton.

While England enjoyed a period of comparative peace under Edward the Confessor, a fourth class of surnames arose--names derived from occupation. The earliest of these seem to have been official names, such as Bishop, Mayor, Fawcett (judge), Alderman, Reeve, Sheriff, Chamberlain, Chancellor, Chaplain, Deacon, Latimer (interpreter), Marshall, Sumner (summoner), and Parker (park-keeper). Trade and craft names, although of the same general type, were of somewhat later origin. Currier was a dresser of skins, Webster a weaver, Wainwright a wagon builder, and Baxter a baker. Such names as Smith, Taylor, Barber, Shepherd, Carter, Mason, and Miller are self-explanatory.

Many surnames of today which seem to defy classification or explanation are corruptions of ancient forms which have become disguised almost beyond recognition. Longfellow, for instance, was originally Longueville, Longshanks was Longchamps, Troublefield was Tuberville, Wrinch was Renshaw, Diggles was Douglas, and Snooks was Sevenoaks. Such corruptions of family names, resulting from ignorance of spelling, variations in pronunciation, or merely from the preference of the bearer, tend to baffle both the genealogist and the etymologist. Shakespeare's name is to be found in some twenty-seven different forms, and the majority of English and Anglo-American surnames have, in their history, appeared in four to a dozen or more variant spellings.

In America, the melting pot of all nations, a greater variety of family names exists than anywhere else in the world. Surnames of every race and nation are represented. While the greater number are of English, Scotch, Irish, or Welsh origin, brought to this country by scions of families which had borne these names for generations prior to emigration, many others, from central and southern Europe and from the Slavic countries, where the use of surnames is generally a more recently established practice, present considerable difficulty to the student of etymology and family history.

Those Americans who bear old and honored names --who trace the history of their surnames back to sturdy emigrant ancestors, or even beyond, across the seas, and into the dim mists of antiquity--may be rightfully proud of their heritage. While the name, in its origin, may seem ingenious, humble, surprising, or matter-of-fact, its significance today lies not in a literal interpretation of its original meaning but in the many things that have happened to it since it first came into use. In the beginning it was only a word, a convenient label to distinguish one John from his neighbor John who lived across the field. But soon it established itself as a part of the bearer's individuality; and as it passed to his children, his children's children, and their children, it became the symbol not of one man but of a family and all that that family stood for. Handed down from generation to generation, it grew inseparably associated with the achievement, the tradition, and the glory of the family. Like the coat of arms, that vivid pictorial symbolization of the name which warrior ancestors bore in battle, the name itself, borne through every event of life and through the lives of scores of one's progenitors, became the badge of family honor--the "good name" to be proud of, to protect, and to fight for if need be. As the valiant deeds of the marching generations have clothed it in glory, it has become an institution, a family rallying cry, and the most treasured possession of those who bear it.

Reverend John L. Deaton, Present Pastor of Christ English Lutheran Church, Charles & Hill Streets, Baltimore, Maryland, advises that since his retirement in or about 1924, Dr. Zimmerman has devoted his time to charitable effort and has annually published poems and other religious articles in large numbers, and, at his own expense, has printed and mailed copies to promote religious causes. Reverend Deaton further assured that the expense of so doing was far in excess of fifteen per cent of his annual taxable income, and that, in addition, large gifts have been made to Christ English Lutheran Church, Florence Crittenton Mission, Lutheran Inner Mission, Society of Pittsburgh, Lutheran Inner Mission of Baltimore, Lutheran Junior Mission, and many others.

Dr. Zimmerman had been repeatedly advised that he was not obligated to return the proceeds of annuities until the principal contribution had been fully repaid to him.

There is attached hereto and to be taken as part hereof a complete analysis of all of the annuities and property rights owned by Dr. Zimmerman, and there is a schedule attached hereto and likewise to be taken as part hereof containing an analysis of the income from each source taxable each year from 1/1/34 to 12/31/40.

Dr. Zimmerman filed an income tax return with the Collector of Internal Revenue, Baltimore, Maryland, for the year 1941.

INSTRUCTIONS

LIABILITY FOR FILING RETURN

An income tax return must be filed by every citizen of the United States whether residing at home or abroad, and every person residing in the United States, though not a citizen thereof, having a gross income for the calendar year 1934 of $5,000, or over, or a net income for the same period of (a) $1,000 or over, if single, or if married and not living with husband or wife, or (b) $2,500 or over, if married and living with husband or wife, or (c) more than the personal exemption if the status of the taxpayer changes during the taxable year. If the combined net income of husband and wife, including that of dependent minor children, if any, is $2,500 or over, or if their combined gross income is $5,000 or over, either each must make a return, or the income of each must be included in a single joint return.

Every person required to file an income return shall file with his return, whether taxable or nontaxable, a statement upon Form 1094 of the following items shown upon the return: (1) Name and address, (2) total gross income, (3) total deductions, (4) net income, (5) total credits against net income for purposes of normal tax, and (6) tax payable. In case of any failure to file such statement with the return, the collector shall prepare it from the return, and $5 shall be added to the tax.

ITEMS EXEMPT FROM TAX

(b) Amounts received (other than by reason of the death of the insured) under a life insurance or endowment contract, not to exceed the premiums or consideration paid for such contract. Amounts received as an annuity under an annuity or endowment contract shall be included in gross income; except that there shall be excluded from gross income the excess of the amount received in the taxable year over an amount equal to 3 per centum of the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for such annuity (whether or not paid during such year), until the aggregate amount excluded from gross income equals the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for such annuity.

(c) Gifts (not made as a consideration for services) and property acquired by bequest, devise, or inheritance (but the income from such property is taxable and must be reported).

(d) Interest upon (1) obligations of a State, Territory, or a political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or possessions of the United States; (2) obligations of instrumentalities of the United States; and (3) all obligations of the United States. Interest on 4% and 4¼% Liberty bonds and Treasury bonds, owned in excess of $5,000, and on obligations of instrumentalities of the United States (except obligations issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended) is subject to surtax if the surtax net income is over $4,000.

(e) Amounts received as accident or health insurance for personal injuries or sickness, plus damages received on account of such injuries or sickness.

(f) Rental value of a dwelling house and appurtenances thereof furnished a minister of the gospel as part of his compensation.

(g) Compensation paid by a State or political subdivision thereof to its officers or employees for services rendered in connection with the exercise of an essential governmental function.

(h) Compensation received for services rendered without the United States (except amounts paid by the United States or any agency thereof) by a citizen who is a nonresident for more than six months during the taxable year.

INCOME

Salaries.—Enter as item 1 all salaries, wages, or other compensation received from outside sources by (a) yourself, (b) your husband or wife if a joint return is filed, and (c) each dependent minor child.

Interest.—Enter as item 2 interest received on bank deposits, notes, mortgages, and corporation bonds, except that interest received on bonds upon which a tax was paid at source by the debtor corporation should be entered as item 3. The tax of 2 percent paid at source on such interest should be claimed as a credit in item 16. Interest on bonds is considered income when due and payable.

Other income.—Enter as item 4 all other taxable income, including rents, dividends on stock of domestic corporations not subject to income tax under the Revenue Act of 1934 (such as building and loan associations, etc.), and dividends on stock of foreign corporations, income of an estate or trust, and your share (whether received or not) in the profits of a partnership, syndicate, pool, joint venture, etc.

DEDUCTIONS

Taxes.—Enter as item 6 all personal taxes and taxes on property paid during the year. Do not include Federal income taxes, nor estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes. No part of foreign income and profits taxes is allowable as a deduction if a credit is claimed in item 17 of the return.

Contributions.—Enter as item 7 any contributions or gifts made during the year to any corporation or fund organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, or educational purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting, to influence legislation. The amount claimed shall not exceed 15 percent of the net income computed without the benefit of this deduction.

List names of organizations and amounts contributed to each in space above.

Other deductions.—Enter as item 8 any other deductions authorized by law, including interest paid on personal indebtedness.

EARNED INCOME CREDIT, PERSONAL EXEMPTION, ETC.

In computing the normal tax, but not the surtax, there may be claimed a credit against net income of 10 per centum of the amount of the earned net income, but not in excess of 10 per centum of the amount of the net income. If the net income is not more than $3,000, the entire net income shall be considered to be earned net income, and if the net income is more than $3,000, the earned net income shall not be considered to be less than $3,000.

A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife, may claim a personal exemption of $1,000. A person who, during the entire taxable year, was the head of a family or was married and living with husband or wife, may claim an exemption of $2,500. If husband and wife file separate returns, the personal exemption may be taken by either or divided between them.

A "head of a family" is an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation.

In addition to the personal exemption, a credit of $400 may be claimed for each person (other than husband or wife) under eighteen years of age, or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective, who received his or her chief support from the taxpayer. This credit can be claimed only by the person who furnishes the chief support, and cannot be divided between two individuals.

If the status of the taxpayer, insofar as it affects the personal exemption or credit for dependents, changes during the taxable year, the personal exemption and credit shall be apportioned in accordance with the number of months before and after such change. For the purpose of such apportionment a fractional part of a month shall be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month in which case it shall be considered as a month.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Affidavit.—The oath will be administered without charge by any collector, deputy collector, or internal revenue agent. If an internal revenue officer is not available, the return should be sworn to before a person authorized to administer oaths, except an attorney or agent employed to represent the taxpayer before the Department in connection with his tax.

Returns.—File the return with the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which you reside on or before March 15, 1935.

Tax.—The tax may be paid at time of filing the return, or in four equal installments payable quarterly.

INSTRUCTIONS

LIABILITY FOR FILING RETURN

An income tax return must be filed by every citizen of the United States whether residing at home or abroad, and every person residing in the United States, though not a citizen thereof, having a gross income for the calendar year 1935 of $5,000, or over, or a net income for the same period of (a) $1,000 or over, if single, or if married and not living with husband or wife, or (b) $2,500 or over, if married and living with husband or wife, or (c) more than the personal exemption if the status of the taxpayer changes during the taxable year. If the combined net income of husband and wife, including that of dependent minor children, if any, is $2,500 or over, or if their combined gross income is $5,000 or over, either each must make a return, or the income of each must be included in a single joint return.

ITEMS EXEMPT FROM TAX

(a) Amounts received under a life insurance contract paid by reason of the death of the insured.

(b) Amounts received (other than by reason of the death of the insured) under a life insurance or endowment contract, not to exceed the premiums or consideration paid for such contract. Amounts received as an annuity under an annuity or endowment contract shall be included in gross income; except that there shall be excluded from gross income the excess of the amount received in the taxable year over an amount equal to 3 percent of the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for such annuity (whether or not paid during such year), until the aggregate amount excluded from gross income equals the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for such annuity.

(c) Gifts (not made as a consideration for services) and property acquired by bequest, devise, or inheritance (but the income from such property is taxable and must be reported).

(d) Interest upon (1) obligations of a State, Territory, or a political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or possessions of the United States; (2) obligations of instrumentalities of the United States; and (3) all obligations of the United States. Interest on 4% and 4¼% Liberty bonds, United States Savings bonds, and Treasury bonds, owned in excess of $5,000, and on obligations of instrumentalities of the United States (except obligations issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended) is subject to surtax if the surtax net income is over $4,000.

(e) Amounts received as accident or health insurance for personal injuries or sickness, plus damages received on account of such injuries or sickness.

(f) Rental value of a dwelling house and appurtenances thereof furnished a minister of the gospel as part of his compensation.

(g) Compensation paid by a State or political subdivision thereof to its officers or employees for services rendered in connection with the exercise of an essential governmental function.

(h) Compensation received for services rendered without the United States (except amounts paid by the United States or any agency thereof) by a citizen who is a nonresident for more than six months during the taxable year.

INCOME

Salaries.—Enter as item 1 all salaries, wages, or other compensation received from outside sources by (a) yourself, (b) your husband or wife if a joint return is filed, and (c) each dependent minor child.

Interest.—Enter as item 2 interest received on bank deposits, notes, mortgages, and corporation bonds, except that interest received on bonds upon which a tax was paid at source by the debtor corporation should be entered as item 3. The tax of 2 percent paid at source on such interest should be claimed as a credit in item 16. Interest on bonds is considered income when due and payable.

Other income.—Enter as item 4 all other taxable income, including dividends on stock of domestic corporations not subject to income tax under the Revenue Act of 1934 (such as building and loan associations, etc.), and dividends on stock of foreign corporations, income of an estate or trust, and your share (whether received or not) in the profits of a partnership, syndicate, pool, joint venture, etc.

DEDUCTIONS

Taxes.—Enter as item 6 all personal taxes and taxes on property paid during the year. Do not include Federal income taxes, nor estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes. No part of foreign income and profits taxes is allowable as a deduction if a credit is claimed in item 17 of the return.

Contributions.—Enter as item 7 any contributions or gifts made during the year to any corporation or fund organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, or educational purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting, to influence legislation. The amount claimed shall not exceed 15 percent of the net income computed without the benefit of this deduction.

Furnish names of organizations and amounts contributed to each.

Other deductions.—Enter as item 8 any other deductions authorized by law, including interest paid on personal indebtedness.

No deduction is allowable for the amount of any item or part thereof allocable to a class of exempt income, other than interest. Items directly attributable to such exempt income shall be allocated thereto, and items directly attributable to any class of taxable income shall be allocated to such taxable income.

A taxpayer receiving any exempt income, other than interest, or holding any property or engaging in any activity the income from which is exempt shall submit with his return as a part thereof an itemized statement, in detail, showing (1) the amount of each class of exempt income, and (2) the amount of items allocated to each such class (the amount allocated by apportionment being shown separately).

EARNED INCOME CREDIT, PERSONAL EXEMPTION, ETC.

In computing the normal tax, but not the surtax, there may be claimed a credit against net income of 10 percent of the amount of the earned net income, but not in excess of 10 percent of the amount of the entire net income. If the net income is not more than $3,000, the entire net income shall be considered to be earned net income, and if the net income is more than $3,000, the earned net income shall not be considered to be less than $3,000.

A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife, may claim a personal exemption of $1,000. A person who, during the entire taxable year, was the head of a family or was married and living with husband or wife, may claim an exemption of $2,500. If husband and wife file separate returns, the personal exemption may be taken by either or divided between them.

A "head of a family" is an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation.

In addition to the personal exemption, a credit of $400 may be claimed for each person (other than husband or wife) under eighteen years of age, or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective, who received his or her chief support from the taxpayer. This credit can be claimed only by the person who furnishes the chief support, and cannot be divided between two individuals.

If the status of the taxpayer, insofar as it affects the personal exemption or credit for dependents, changes during the taxable year, the personal exemption and credit shall be apportioned in accordance with the number of months before and after such change. For the purpose of such apportionment a fractional part of a month shall be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month in which case it shall be considered as a month.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Affidavit.—The oath will be administered without charge by any collector, deputy collector, or internal revenue agent. If an internal revenue officer is not available, the return should be sworn to before a person authorized to administer oaths, except an attorney or agent employed to represent the taxpayer before the Department in connection with his tax.

The affidavit must be executed by the person whose income is reported or by his legal representative or agent. The return may be made by an agent (1) if, by reason of illness, the person liable for the making of the return is unable to make it, or (2) if the taxpayer is unable to make the return by reason of continuous absence from the United States for a period of at least 60 days prior to the date prescribed by law for making the return. Whenever a return is made by an agent it must be accompanied by a power of attorney on Form 935, or, in the case of husband and wife, on Form 936 (copies of which may be obtained from the collector of internal revenue).

The joint return of husband and wife must be signed by both spouses and sworn to by the spouse preparing—filling in—the return. If the return is prepared by both spouses, or is prepared by neither spouse, then both spouses must swear to the return, except where one spouse acts for the other spouse under a power of attorney submitted on Form 936.

Tax.—The tax may be paid at time of filing the return, or in four equal installments payable quarterly provided each installment is paid on or before its respective due date.

PENALTIES

For willful failure to make and file a return on time.—Not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, together with the costs of prosecution, and, in addition, 5 to 25 percent of the amount of the tax.

For willfully making a false or fraudulent return.—Not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

INSTRUCTIONS

LIABILITY FOR FILING RETURN

An income tax return must be filed by every citizen of the United States whether residing at home or abroad, and every person residing in the United States, though not a citizen thereof, having a gross income for the calendar year 1935 of $5,000, or over, or a net income for the same period of (a) $1,000 or over, if single, or if married and not living with husband or wife, or (b) $2,500 or over, if married and living with husband or wife, or (c) more than the personal exemption if the status of the taxpayer changes during the taxable year. If the combined net income of husband and wife, including that of dependent minor children, if any, is $2,500 or over, or if their combined gross income is $5,000 or over, either each must make a return, or the income of each must be included in a single joint return.

ITEMS EXEMPT FROM TAX

(a) Amounts received under a life insurance contract paid by reason of the death of the insured.

(b) Amounts received (other than by reason of the death of the insured) under a life insurance or endowment contract, not to exceed the premiums or consideration paid for such contract. Amounts received as an annuity under an annuity or endowment contract shall be included in gross income; except that there shall be excluded from gross income the excess of the amount received in the taxable year over an amount equal to 3 percent of the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for such annuity (whether or not paid during such year), until the aggregate amount excluded from gross income equals the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for such annuity.

(c) Gifts (not made as a consideration for services) and property acquired by bequest, devise, or inheritance (but the income from such property is taxable and must be reported).

(d) Interest upon (1) obligations of a State, Territory, or a political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, or possessions of the United States; (2) obligations of instrumentalities of the United States; and (3) all obligations of the United States. Interest on 4% and 4¼% Liberty bonds, United States Savings bonds, and Treasury bonds, owned in excess of $5,000, and on obligations of instrumentalities of the United States (except obligations issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended) is subject to surtax if the surtax net income is over $4,000.

(e) Amounts received as accident or health insurance for personal injuries or sickness, plus damages received on account of such injuries or sickness.

(f) Rental value of a dwelling house and appurtenances thereof furnished a minister of the gospel as part of his compensation.

(g) Compensation paid by a State or political subdivision thereof to its officers or employees for services rendered in connection with the exercise of an essential governmental function.

(h) Compensation received for services rendered without the United States (except amounts paid by the United States or any agency thereof) by a citizen who is a nonresident for more than six months during the taxable year.

INCOME

Salaries.—Enter as item 1 all salaries, wages, or other compensation received from outside sources by (a) yourself, (b) your husband or wife if a joint return is filed, and (c) each dependent minor child.

Interest.—Enter as item 2 interest received on bank deposits, notes, mortgages, and corporation bonds, except that interest received on bonds upon which a tax was paid at source by the debtor corporation should be entered as item 3. The tax of 2 percent paid at source on such interest should be claimed as a credit in item 16. Interest on bonds is considered income when due and payable.

Other income.—Enter as item 4 all other taxable income, including dividends on stock of domestic corporations not subject to income tax under the Revenue Act of 1934 (such as building and loan associations, etc.), and dividends on stock of foreign corporations, income of an estate or trust, and your share (whether received or not) in the profits of a partnership, syndicate, pool, joint venture, etc.

DEDUCTIONS

Taxes.—Enter as item 6 all personal taxes and taxes on property paid during the year. Do not include Federal income taxes, nor estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes. No part of foreign income and profits taxes is allowable as a deduction if a credit is claimed in item 17 of the return.

Contributions.—Enter as item 7 any contributions or gifts made during the year to any corporation or fund organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, or educational purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting, to influence legislation. The amount claimed shall not exceed 15 percent of the net income computed without the benefit of this deduction.

Furnish names of organizations and amounts contributed to each.

Other deductions.—Enter as item 8 any other deductions authorized by law, including interest paid on personal indebtedness.

No deduction is allowable for the amount of any item or part thereof allocable to a class of exempt income, other than interest. Items directly attributable to such exempt income shall be allocated thereto, and items directly attributable to any class of taxable income shall be allocated to such taxable income.

A taxpayer receiving any exempt income, other than interest, or holding any property or engaging in any activity the income from which is exempt shall submit with his return as a part thereof an itemized statement, in detail, showing (1) the amount of each class of exempt income, and (2) the amount of items allocated to each such class (the amount allocated by apportionment being shown separately).

EARNED INCOME CREDIT, PERSONAL EXEMPTION, ETC.

In computing the normal tax, but not the surtax, there may be claimed a credit against net income of 10 percent of the amount of the earned net income, but not in excess of 10 percent of the amount of the entire net income. If the net income is not more than $3,000, the entire net income shall be considered to be earned net income, and if the net income is more than $3,000, the earned net income shall not be considered to be less than $3,000.

A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife, may claim a personal exemption of $1,000. A person who, during the entire taxable year, was the head of a family or was married and living with husband or wife, may claim an exemption of $2,500. If husband and wife file separate returns, the personal exemption may be taken by either or divided between them.

A "head of a family" is an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation.

In addition to the personal exemption, a credit of $400 may be claimed for each person (other than husband or wife) under eighteen years of age, or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective, who received his or her chief support from the taxpayer. This credit can be claimed only by the person who furnishes the chief support, and cannot be divided between two individuals.

If the status of the taxpayer, insofar as it affects the personal exemption or credit for dependents, changes during the taxable year, the personal exemption and credit shall be apportioned in accordance with the number of months before and after such change. For the purpose of such apportionment a fractional part of a month shall be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month in which case it shall be considered as a month.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Affidavit.—The oath will be administered without charge by any collector, deputy collector, or internal revenue agent. If an internal revenue officer is not available, the return should be sworn to before a person authorized to administer oaths, except an attorney or agent employed to represent the taxpayer before the Department in connection with his tax.

The affidavit must be executed by the person whose income is reported or by his legal representative or agent. The return may be made by an agent (1) if, by reason of illness, the person liable for the making of the return is unable to make it, or (2) if the taxpayer is unable to make the return by reason of continuous absence from the United States for a period of at least 60 days prior to the date prescribed by law for making the return. Whenever a return is made by an agent it must be accompanied by a power of attorney on Form 935, or, in the case of husband and wife, on Form 936 (copies of which may be obtained from the collector of internal revenue).

The joint return of husband and wife must be signed by both spouses and sworn to by the spouse preparing—filling in—the return. If the return is prepared by both spouses, or is prepared by neither spouse, then both spouses must swear to the return, except where one spouse acts for the other spouse under a power of attorney submitted on Form 936.

Tax.—The tax may be paid at time of filing the return, or in four equal installments payable quarterly provided each installment is paid on or before its respective due date.

PENALTIES

For willful failure to make and file a return on time.—Not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, together with the costs of prosecution, and, in addition, 5 to 25 percent of the amount of the tax.

For willfully making a false or fraudulent return.—Not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.
